Episode 35: On The Offensive

=====

Hours passed since Christopher was able to defeat Gabriel Grayson - one of Enryu's minions. The next morning, Christopher was able to get a text message from Avi about more demons in Providence.

Christopher: Figures. I'm guessing these demons don't sleep too often.

Lisa: (wakes up.) Wow, you're up early. What are you doing?

Christopher: I just got a text message from Avi about some more demons in Providence.

Lisa: What? This early?!

Christopher: Yes, I have to get going. Do you want to come with me?

Lisa: Uh, no.

Christopher: Figures. I guess I'll see you whenever then.

Lisa: Be careful out there, Christopher.

Christopher: Don't worry; I will be.

Christopher heads off outside Providence's city limits to search for some demons. From there, he sees Maxelle, Iris, Koya, Kori, Irene and the Meguras.

Christopher: Sorry to keep you waiting.

Sal: What took you so long?

Christopher: I had to take a bath. Other than that, what rank are these demons we're up against?

Irene: A low C-Level group according to the Council's reports from Ms. Smith.

Christopher: Great; more population control from Ms. Smith. Anyway, were you able to locate them?

Maxelle: Not at the moment. It looks like we're going to have to go inside Providence's city limits to find them.

Christopher: Fine by me; let's get going.

Christopher and his strikeforce go into Providence's city limits to find the demons. Meanwhile at the Myles' household someone was knocking on the door. Catherine opens the door and sees that it was Derek Mason. He was battered.

Catherine: Who are you? What happened to you?

Derek: Where's your sister? It's about Enryu.

Catherine: Enryu?! Are you a demon hunter?!

Derek: Yes, my name is Derek Mason.

Catherine: She's at the Council gathering information about Enryu and his minions.

Then, Tyler appears to see him.

Tyler: Who's this man?

Catherine: He is Christopher's father, Derek.

Tyler: I'll help him recover.

Tyler used healing magic to heal Derek and Catherine becomes jealous of Tyler for using that magic. Meanwhile at Providence's city limits, Christopher and his strikeforce were having a difficult time trying to find the demons.

Christopher: They could be anywhere for what I know. Maxelle, are you able to track them with that rod of yours?

Maxelle: Just barely. I'm feeling something but it's slowly becoming weak as we get close to it.

Then her rod began to vibrate. She was able to pick up the demonic energy's location.

Maxelle: There; in the back alley. Let's go.

Christopher and his strikeforce entered the back alley and saw some demons there. So they fought against them and was able to beat them.

Iris: I guess that takes care of them. Were you able to find any more of them around here, Maxelle?

Maxelle: No. I guess we're done for today.

Christopher: (thinking silently.) That was way too easy. I'm guessing the Council was able to track and destroy them outside Providence.

Kei: What are you waiting for, Christopher? We're through for today.

Christopher: Alright.

Christopher went back to his apartment along with Maxelle, Iris, Koya and Kori. He sees a car from Delaware parked in his spot.

Christopher: Another car from Delaware? How many of these cars from Delaware are going to park in my spot?

Koya: Is it Ruth?

Christopher: No; she drives an old Ford Taurus. It has to be - - - it is my dad, Derek. What is he doing here? I thought he was in Delaware.

Maxelle: I guess something came up from there.

Christopher: I'm guessing Lisa let him in the apartment. Let's go there.

So, Christopher and his group went into his apartment to meet him. Ruth was also there with Lisa. He also sees Andre the Fox, Leo's familiar.

Christopher: Dad.

Derek: Hello, Christopher. What a surprise.

Christopher: What happened to you in Delaware? Did those demons raid Newark?

Derek: Yes; I'm afraid it's going to get worse. Those demons that attacked us were affiliated with Enryu. Currently, the Council is dealing with them in his pipeline territories - mainly Newport, Montpelier and Bangor.

Ruth:

Christopher: They overpowered you; how and why?

Derek: I'm still recovering from using my Raiken powers to combat those fiends; besides that, Leo's dealing with them, as well.

Ruth: I see; have you found a place to stay for safety against those demons?

Derek: I want to head to the Council in Providence and stay there until you've defeated some of Enryu's major minions. You were able to defeat Gabriel; he's one of Enryu's main minions.

Kori: Who is Enryu?

Derek: One of the most dangerous demons on the face of the earth. He's a high A-ranked demon of fire; his power is extraordinary and his anger is fueling his incredible power. I don't think you can take him on alone; we need a multitude of Raikens to combat him.

Christopher: And that's supposed to scare me? That anger of his maybe fueling his power but even so. I'm still going to kill him.

Lisa: Christopher, please.

Then, someone was knocking on Christopher's door.

Andre: I'll get it.

Andre opens the door and sees that it was Allison Mayberry.

Andre: Who's this woman?

Christopher: Allison? What are you doing here?

Allison: We need to talk.
