Episode 1: A Hard Drive

A year has passed since Christopher and his allies defeated Enryu and his minions. In the morning at 6 AM, Christopher wakes up and sees Lisa, Koya and Kori sleeping beside him. He goes upfront to see if anyone contacted him while he was asleep. No one contacted him.

Christopher: Figures.

Then, Hanna appears.

Hanna: Christopher. What a surprise; what are you doing up so early?

Christopher: I'm usually up at these hours; what are you doing up so early?

Hanna: Ok, you got me.

Christopher: Did you hear anything from the council?

Hanna: No, not yet.

Then, Lisa appears.

Lisa: (yawns.) What are you guys doing up so early?

Christopher: We were just checking out something from the Council. So far, we haven't received any new information them recently.

Lisa: I think that's great.

Christopher:

Lisa: What's wrong?

Christopher: Nothing. I'm glad these demon attacks have cooled off - - - for now.

Lisa: I see.

Hours passed; it was almost noon. Christopher, along with Lisa, Koya, Kori and Hanna, went to the Council to see if there were any new demons to fight against.

Christina: Christopher, what a surprise. What are you doing here?

Christopher: Just seeing if we had some demons to fight against. That's all.

Christina: Not at the moment; there were some demons spotted outside Providence. Most of them are low-leveled demons and the other council members were dealing with them while you were asleep.

Christopher: Figures. So where's Ms. Smith at?

Christina: She's in her office along with Mina and Tiffany.

Christopher: Ok.

Christopher heads to Alice's office to see her but he was shocked to see her in her bedtime attire getting a massage from Mina.

Christopher: Excuse me for not knocking; I'm terribly sorry for entering.

Alice: It's alright; don't feel too badly about it.

Christopher: Damn.

Alice: Ok, Mina; take five.

Christopher: I'm sorry for not knocking the door, Ms. Smith. I'm a bit curious why there hasn't been any demon sightings recently.

Alice: They're being dealt with by other members from the Council. Just try not to feel too badly about it.

Christopher: That's easy for you to say.

Alice: Oh, I almost forgot. Now that Mina and Tiffany's gone, can you give me a massage?

Christopher: For real, Ms. Smith? I don't think I can do this; I got some rough hands.

Alice: I don't mind. Just try to be gentle with your touch; besides, this will be practical for you for Koya.

Christopher: (rolls his eyes in disgust.) Ok.

Christopher was able to massage Alice for three minutes and she felt good from getting that massage from him. Christopher was feeling relieved that he did that. After that, he went into the hall to see Koya and the others.

Koya: Is something wrong, Christopher?

Christopher: No, were you guys able to find any demons yet?

Then, Mina's alarm on her iPhone sounded off.

Mina: It's them; we found some demons outside Providence's city limits.

Christopher: Let's go there.

Christopher and his crew, consisting of Koya, Kori and Mina, went outside Providence's to fight some demons. Alcoa and the Meguras were also there staving them off from entering Providence's city limits; so far, they were able to defeat three demons. When Christopher and his crew arrived, they were able to defeat the rest of the demons.

Alcoa: Thanks, Christopher.

Christopher: You're welcome. Anyway, are there any more?

Kei: Not at the moment.

Mina: I'll go on ahead and return to the Council and inform Ms. Smith about this.

Sal: Ok; bye, Mina.

Christopher: I guess I should be heading home, too. You want to come along with me, Kei and Sal?

Kei: Maybe tommorrow; were you able to find out that SoulCalibur 6 is coming out for the PS4?

Christopher: It is?! Damn, I was so busy demon hunting - - - I can't believe I forgot about that game. So when is it coming out?

Sal: In the middle of October; it's available to be pre-ordered.

Christopher: I guess I should get it while it's hot. It's July now; I guess I'll wait until my birthday to pre-order that game. Thanks for the information, Meguras.

Sal: You're welcome; just try to be careful returning home.

Kei: Come on, Sal. Let's go.

The Meguras left. After fighting the demons, Christopher, along with Lisa, Hanna, Koya and Kori, return to the apartment strip. But before he could park his car, another car was in his spot.

Christopher: What? This again? I hate it when people park in my spot!

Christopher gets out of the car and was shocked to see that the car's license plate was from California. Without a doubt, he somewhat knew who it was.

Hanna: Who's car is this?

Christopher: It seems like my cousin from Malibu is here in Providence.

Lisa: You have a cousin? Who is it?

Christopher: Andrew Gilbert Mason. I wasn't expecting him here; it leaves me wondering why is he here in Providence.

Hanna: I guess Maxelle and Iris are in your apartment and brought him in.

Christopher: Wouldn't want to keep them waiting. Let's see what this fag wants.

Christopher and the others enter; as you can see, Andrew was happy to see him.

Andrew: Christopher!

Christopher: Hi, hippie. What brings you here in Providence?

Andrew: Just to see how you're doing. I heard that my uncle became a senior advisor for the Council here in Providence.

Hanna: Who, Derek? I had no idea.

Christopher: You want to see him?

Andrew: Yes. (his rabbit was licking Hanna's shoe.) Knock it off, Linda.

Christopher: Linda?

Andrew: Yes, she's my familiar.

Christopher: A rabbit? As a familiar? (laughs.)

Andrew: Why are you laughing?

Christopher: It should be obvious. What the hell brought you here to have a rabbit as a familiar? Too bad, Mr. rabbit isn't here; otherwise this apartment will be littered with rabbits. (looks at Linda.) Here I was thinking that you're going to bring in something like an electric eel or Rodney the retarded hamster. (laughs again.)

Andrew: Christopher, please; I think you should stop laughing.

Christopher: I doubt she can transform into an ugly human. (laughs.) Oh my god, how stupendous! (laughs.)

As Christopher was laughing, Linda transforms into a slightly robust human and she was naked. Christopher stopped laughing at her.

Linda: Where did that grin go?

Christopher: Hi, Linda.

Linda kicked him in the nuts and he was unable to get up.

Hanna: What power!

Lisa: Oh my god! Christopher!

Linda: Don't worry; I didn't use too much force. He'll be alright.

Andrew: Damn, Linda! What did I tell you about nude transformations?! You know I hate that! Put on some decent clothing!!

Linda: Alright. (looks at Christopher.) Now let that be a lesson to you.

Christopher: I'm going to be feeling that for weeks.

Hours passed; it was 3 PM. Omar arrives to see Andrew.

Andrew: Hello, Omar.

Omar: Hi. (looks at Christopher.) Is this your cousin that you've been telling me about?

Andrew: Yes, he's agreed to help us find Hikari.

Christopher: Hikari? Who's that person? Is he a demon?

Maxelle: She. That demon's a female.

Christopher: Hearing that is a relief; I swear these female demons are annoying than male demons.

Linda: How can you be so sure of yourself?

Christopher: I'm a man of experience; it may not look like it, but I know my way around fighting demons - thanks to Leo, Maxelle and Derek.

Linda: I see.

Christopher: Anyway, tell me about Hikari.

Maxelle: She's a fire demon. Not to mention, she's related to Enryu and the rest of the demons we faced a year ago. I doubt you want to face her as you are right now.

Christopher:

Lisa: How powerful is she?

Iris: We don't know. The Council is looking into her power as we speak.

Andrew: Well, I guess we better head to the Council to tell them about Hikari.

Omar: Ok.

Andrew: But before we go, can we stay here for this week?

Christopher: What? No way - - -

Linda: How do you like me to castrate you instead?

Christopher: (feeling scared.) Oh no! Ok! You can stay here for the night!

Linda: Good. I guess that's settled; let's go.

Christopher: That bitch; how the hell did Andrew get a hold on that violent doe?

Iris: The same way you did with Lisa, Chris. Try not to feel too bad about it; just save that feeling for tomorrow at the Rockefeller Gym.

Maxelle: Ok, let's head to the Council, Iris. Just try to stay out of trouble while we're away.

Christopher: I'm glad that's over; that's some tough shit I'm going to have to go through tomorrow.

Lisa: How are you going to overcome it? I'm sure Linda's going to be at the gym trying to give you a hard time.

Christopher: I just need to relearn the ability to improvise and adapt to that doe's strength; I guess I need to watch Heartbreak Ridge so I can learn how to do that. Want to watch the movie?

Lisa: No thanks; war dramas doesn't suit me.

Lisa went to Christopher's room to rest. Christopher knew for a fact Linda, Iris and Maxelle were going to push him as much as Clint Eastwood pushed these weak-willed marines. So, he was able to watch the whole movie; after that, he went to sleep.
