

Chapter 11: Aftermath: Live and Let Live

Hours passed since Utan and his allies were able to defeat Omega-3 and his minions. It was 6 AM and Utan sees Arcueid walk out of the mansion.

Utan: Going somewhere, Arcueid?

Arcueid: Yes; now that Omega-3's gone, I can finally return home.

Utan: For what?

Arcueid: An eternal slumber.

Utan: I see; it's a good thing as it seems. I'm quite positive that we can rest for eternity, but I'm not a True Ancestor like you.

Arcueid: Promise me this.

Utan: What is it?

Arcueid: Try not to awaken your True Ancestral powers unless you have to; try to save it on meaningful enemies.

Utan: I will; enjoy your eternal slumber, Arc.

Arcueid: Thank you for everything.

Arcueid leaves the mansion and leaves Japan.

Utan: She deserves it.

Then, Nemo Uga appears.

Nemo Uga: Wow, you're up early. What were you doing?

Utan: Just saying sayonara to a great ally.

Nemo Uga: Why didn't you go along with her?

Utan: She has her reasons; besides that, I'm not a True Ancestor. It's only remedial that she did that. Her powers are dangerous for you and me to handle.

Nemo Uga: I thought you had some of the True Ancestor's powers.

Utan: But it was only temporary. Anyway, do you want to go to McDonald's and get some breakfast?

Nemo Uga: Sure.

Utan along with Nemo Uga, Satsuki and Azaka went to McDonalds to go get some breakfast.

Utan: So what do you guys want to eat?

Nemo Uga: Get me the Chicken Biscuit.

Utan: This isn't Chick-Fil-A, man.

Satsuki: They have it on the menu.

Utan: (sees that it was on the menu.) Oh, so sorry.

Before they could get in line, someone bumped into Satsuki. Utan was wondering who that person was - it was the substitute teacher from Satsuki and Shiki Tohno's school.

Utan: Excuse me, sir.

Substitute Teacher: Are you talking to me?

Utan: Whom else would I be talking to? Why did you bump into Satsuki? I want you to apologize to her.

Substitute Teacher: Why should I? You don't even go to my school; you're just a hypocrite.

Utan: A hypocrite? Don't make me laugh; you sure like to talk tough. Let's see if you can back it up.

Substitute Teacher: I'll show you how tough I am.

Utan was able to catch his fist and kicked him in the nuts. Thankfully, he didn't use too much force.

Utan: Your teaching style's a joke. If I find out that you've been mistreating Satsuki, Shiki or Akiha, you have to answer to me. Just be thankful Satsuki gave you a second chance.

Satsuki: I'm sorry for troubling you.

Utan: Look, it's alright. We got our breakfast; let's return home.

Nemo Uga: (looks at the substitute teacher.) I'd sure hate to be in your shoes challenging Utan into a fight. You should have known better. (leaves.)

Hours passed; it was 8 pm. Utan drove off to the abandoned waterfront to see the moon. It was a half moon.

Utan: Well, I guess I'll take it, Arcueid; half and half.

Then, Aoko appears to see him.

Utan: Aoko? What are you doing here?

Aoko: I wanted to thank you for defeating Omega-3.

Utan: What about your sister? He killed her.

Aoko: I know. With her out of the way, I can have some peace.

Utan: What are you going to do now?

Aoko: Sightsee the world.

Utan: I would have done the same thing; but I need to make sure that Japan is safe from these fiends. I'm sorry for what happened to your sister.

Aoko: You have no reason to apologize. Promise me this, Utan.

Utan: What is it?

Aoko: Do well in keeping the world safe from evil. I'll be in touch if you need anything from me. (leaves.)

Utan was looking at her in a strange way as she left. But he took her words into account and let her go on.

The End Results

Arcueid is in an eternal slumber.

Utan becomes an interim guardian of Misaki Town and becomes a father to three children to Satsuki. Their names are Uto, Ukon and Ukari.

The End.
